

Pet Health Solutions Introduces Caniox®-R With Resveratrol

Caniox®-R With Resveratrol is a powerful new antioxidant blend nutritional supplement for dogs six months of age or more, providing dogs with essential nutrients to promote a healthy and extended life.

Union City, CA (PRWEB) October 1, 2009 -- Caniox®-R With Resveratrol is a powerful new antioxidant blend nutritional supplement for dogs six months of age or more, providing dogs with essential nutrients to promote a healthy and extended life. Caniox®-R is also available in 3-packs, containing 180 chewable tablets.

Caniox-R contains various ingredients with multiple nutritional benefits. Resveratrol is a powerful antioxidant that promotes longevity and protection from age-related symptoms. Atlantic Kelp is rich in vitamins, trace minerals and amino acids, providing a natural source of iodine that is beneficial for thyroid and glandular health (aiding digestion and reducing stress). Flaxseed Oil is an excellent source of Omega-3 fatty acids, important for neuromuscular development, skin health, coat quality and preventing blood clots. Lecithin aids the nervous system by promoting alertness and steady nerves. Lecithin emulsifies fat, improving digestion of fats, and helps remove fatty liver deposits for a healthier liver and improved metabolic process.

Caniox®-R's main ingredient of Resveratrol has a guaranteed analysis of 15 mg. Caniox®-R's potent natural blend also includes: Atlantic Kelp, Flaxseed Oil, Grape Juice Powder, Grape Seed Extract, Manganese Ascorbate, Vitamin E, Citrus Bioflavonoids, Lecithin, Alpha Lipoic Acid, Dicalcium Phosphate, Microcrystalline Cellulose, Sucrose, Porcine Liver Powder, Stearic Acid, Silicon Dioxide, Magnesium Stearate.
